1) How is the command "leave it" different than saying "no"?

The word "no" is a very overused word used for a variety of situations. "Leave it" is a specific command taught in steps with a high value reward. It has a very defined meaning for the dog to patiently wait, which with training can be used in different situations.

2) In paragraph three, we learn several instances when knowing the command "leave it" can be very important for a dog to know. Can you name three?

Using "leave it" can keep your dog safe from dropped medications, forbidden foods, garbage, animal droppings, snakes, snapping turtles, and picking up toys or items that do not belong to them.
